

A photograph showing three children sitting at a wooden table, engaged in a craft activity. They are using white foam balls, glue, and various decorative materials like beads and ribbons to make Christmas ornaments. The child on the left is wearing a green and blue plaid shirt, the middle child is in a red shirt, and the child on the right is in a beige sweater. The table is cluttered with craft supplies, including a glue gun, scissors, and several completed and in-progress ornaments.
